

KILROE TESTIFIES ON AUTO RIDE WITH MRS. BOURASSE

"Not One-Armed Driver," He Says, Answering Charges in Conspiracy Trial.

Edwin T. Kilroe, Assistant District Attorney, was recalled to the stand today in the trial of himself and Louis E. Swartz, an attorney, charged with conspiring to defraud a bigamy charge against Napoleon Bourasse, a stock broker. The entire morning was taken up with a recital of the complaint, made to Kilroe by Mrs. Helen Montrose St. Marie Bourasse, a motion picture actress, her husband was guilty of bigamy.

Mr. Kilroe, of attorneys for Mr. Kilroe, asked Mr. Kilroe: "Did you put your arm around Mrs. Bourasse in an automobile?" "No," replied the Assistant District Attorney with a smile. "I'm not a one-armed driver."

"On the trip to New Rochelle," continued Mr. Kilroe, "I told Mrs. Bourasse her husband had told me he had obtained a divorce before he married her."

"Oh, that's only one of his tricks," replied Mrs. Bourasse.

"I told her if it was a fact, there wasn't much to the bigamy charge," Mrs. Bourasse accused me of double-crossing her and siding with her husband. I told her she was crazy and a liar. These words are what Mrs. Bourasse referred to in court when she testified that I had "in sulted" her."

Mr. Kilroe also told of another incident after the New Rochelle automobile trip.

"A man approached me in the corridors of the Criminal Courts Building and told me Mrs. Bourasse was panhandling him out of me. She says you're a crook and didn't arrest her husband at all," the man continued," said Kilroe.

Arrested at Shanley's for Alleged Theft of $500 Ring—Court Advises Them to Sue Accuser.

Jane and Dorothy Simmons, mother and daughter, of No. 135 Columbia Heights, Brooklyn, and Branch Street, a driving room attendant who were arrested at Shanley's Restaurant last night, accused of knowledge of the disappearance of a $500 diamond ring belonging to Juanita Fernandez, which had been left momentarily on a wash stand, were today discharged in the West Side Court. Miss Fernandez failed to appear against them.

Magistrate McGuire, in discharging the prisoners, said it was a shame that they had been compelled to spend the night in the West 47th Street Station House and that nothing should come of the charge. He told the three that they had good grounds for action against their accuser.

Indictment Against Henry D. Patton Dismissed.

Supreme Court Justice Tenney at the

The Court ruled that there was not sufficient evidence against Patton to constitute a crime. The District Attorney's office had asked for a dismissal yesterday on the ground that two of the State's witnesses were
